A miracle has happened since the inception of Glenn D. Paige’s insightful proclamation, “No more killing!” The many publications, translations, Leadership Academies, as well as the proliferation of global Affiliates foretell of a future when nonkilling will be the practical measure for a better world.

For the last fifty years, Paige has been in touch with thousands of respected scholars and activists to study this question, including interdisciplinary research committees -- anthropology, science, neurology, the arts, and many more. They have compiled an impressive body of knowledge that uncovered some remarkable conclusions.

The mission of the Center for Global Nonkilling requires at minimum a small, creative and catalytic core working group. These experts will advance nonkilling research, education and training, and applications of nonkilling knowledge in cooperation with individuals and institutions throughout the world. The model can be replicated for service in every society until each human being becomes a center for global nonkilling.

You can ensure that this important work will fulfill its mission by becoming a member of the Alpha Club for sustainability. A contribution of $1000 or more will help the daily operations as the Center continues to provide progress and effect nonkilling action around the world.
